STAGE ROBBED OF $600 IN MOGOLLONS

Silver City, N. M., July 29.—Marriott's mail stage leaving Mogollon at 2 o'clock yesterday morning was held up by two masked robbers a short distance out of Mogollon and $600 were taken from two women passengers. The robbers did not bother the mail and packages and immediately escaped into the mountains. No clue as to their identity except the stage driver believes them to be Mexicans. The driver was a new man and immediately threw up his hands when the robbers covered him with their guns.

SPAIN FACES CRISIS; MAYBE RELIGIOUS WAR

Don Jaime, Pretender to the Throne, Threatens to Lead the Uprising—Pope Declines any Further Negotiations With Spanish Government Until Liberty Granted to Protestants Is Denied.

Madrid, Spain, July 29.—Ominous reports are received following the publication of the news that a rupture between the Spanish government and the vatican is imminent. At San Sebastian, Don Jaime, the pretender, has issued a manifesto in which he says he will lead the Carlists in battle, which he intimates may be coming soon. It is expected that premier Canalejas will ask king Alfonso to set the stamp of his approval on the course the premier has adopted. The vatican has declared that negotiations looking to revision of the Concordat cannot be continued until the imperial decree permitting non-Catholic societies to display their insignia of public worship has been withdrawn. Canalejas has responded that he cannot cancel the program which the government has announced. In some quarters it is believed the holy see counts on the fall of the government. Canalejas, however, is said to have had assurance of the king's support at the time he determined on his plan for religious reforms. El Mundo, discussing the threatened break between the Spanish government and the vatican over the refusal of premier Canalejas to rescind the imperial decree which permits non-Catholic societies to display the insignia for public worship, says: "The holy see has no reason to feel offended. It is heading deliberately toward a rupture which will precipitate the opening of a rapid and energetic anti-clerical campaign."

LIGHTNING CAUSES A $50,000 BLAZE

La Junta, Colo., July 29.—Lightning which struck the opera house here early this morning started a fire that destroyed that building and two adjoining structures, causing a panic among three score of lodgers in the upper floors in the Pierce block and injury to half a dozen persons, one seriously. For a time the whole city was threatened, but a deluge of rain which followed the lightning, enabled the firemen to confine the flames to three buildings. The loss is about $50,000.

RETURNING TO EL PASO FROM JUAREZ, CAR MEETS ACCIDENT

WORLD PEACE CONGRESS IN SWEDEN

Movement Is Not New, But Civil and Crimean Wars Gave It an Awful Jar.

CANNONS TO GO INTO MUSEUMS

Stockholm, Sweden, July 29.—Owing to the world-wide agitation for universal peace, special significance is attached to the Eighteenth International Peace congress which opens in this city tomorrow and continues in session until August 1. At no time in the history of the civilization has the outlook been so auspicious for the abolishment of warfare, and for this reason the discussion at this convention promises to be the most interesting ever heard on this subject. Not only delegates from the 500 or more peace societies will be present, but there will be representatives from trade and labor associations, churches, philanthropic societies, civic clubs, educational and other institutions. Important Subjects. Among the important subjects to be discussed is the probable establishment of the court of arbitration, the possibility of an international agreement for the limitation of armaments, which has been foreshadowed in the gradual change of public opinion in Great Britain in favor of the immunity from capture by the enemy of merchant ships at sea in time of war, a measure that if passed will do away with the necessity of naval protection from commerce and therefore greatly reduce armaments; the removal from the category of war of questions of national honor, for which the public mind has been prepared by president Taft's recent speech; and the growing demand for treaty provisions pledging the nations not to take territory from each other by conquest, fear of annexation and violation of sovereignty.

FALLS INTO BOUNDARY STREAM

First Span of Bridge Gives Way and Lets Car and the Passengers Sink Down.

TWO MEN ARE HURT RATHER SERIOUSLY

Every Passenger of the 25 Aboard the Car Sustains Some Sort of Bruise.

With the cracking of bridge timbers, and the screams of frightened women, Mexico car No. 78, with 25 passengers, tumbled into the waterless basin of the Rio Grande shortly before 8:30 o'clock Friday morning, 15 feet from the bridge above. Although a score of persons were injured, a few men and women rendered unconscious, no deaths resulted; not even a bone was broken amid the pile of humanity cooped in the fallen overturned car. Most seriously injured are T. A. Leonard, a motorman, and O. C. Scott, one of a gang of workmen who were installing new beams in the bridge. Strangely it appears that the improvements had nothing to do with the wreck of bridge and car, since the fall occurred while the car was on the first span from the Mexican side and the workmen were making repairs on the second span. Car No. 78 had left the Juarez custom house at 8:15, and had made a second stop before running on the bridge. The register showed 25 passengers, and conductor Ralph Hughes had completed collection of fares, and was standing on the rear platform. As the car passed downward, there was a swerving sideward, toward the west, and the car slid slowly downward. The board sank with the weight of the car, allowing it to slide on to the river bank, left side downward. Passengers in the right seats were thrown onto the seats across, or tumbled on the passengers sitting on the opposite side. Women screamed and fainted, and the majority of the men immediately started rescue work. So gentle was the fall, that the framework of the car was intact, and broken windows registered no cuts to the passengers. Men crawled through windows, and the women were lifted through the doors. The 12 workmen employed on the bridge rushed to the scene, closely followed by immigration men from the nearby station. Telephones called ambulances and carriages, and doctors and police from both Juarez and El Paso hurried to the place. Confusion Is Great. All was confusion. Everybody, it seemed, complained of some injury, but the majority of the passengers only received slight hurts. Little blood was drawn, and not so much as a finger bone was fractured. "If the door had not been open, I believe I would have been killed," said motorman Leonard at Providence hospital. "I was standing by the side of a student motorman who was operating the car when the warning came. He shut off the power, and took off his crank. I braced myself by the door grips, but was thrown clear of the car, all but my legs." Leonard, a veteran motorman and many months on the Mexico line, sustained injuries about the legs and stomach, the nature of which have not been fully learned. He regained consciousness after being carried to the immigration station. Michael Burton, the student, was uninjured. The street car officials do not know his name and (Continued on Page Five.)

CRIPPEN MAY HAVE BEEN LOCATED

A Scotland Yard Man Will Meet Steamer When It Docks in Canada.

Father Point, Que., July 29.—The steamer Montrose, believed to have on board Dr. Hawley Crippen and his typist, Ethel Clara Levee, steamed through the straits of Belle Isle this morning. The Montrose is expected to reach here Sunday morning. Inspector Dew, of Scotland Yard, traveling on a faster steamer, has outstripped the suspects and will be at Father Point when the Montrose reaches here. The following wireless message was received last night by the Quebec Chronicle from Father Point: "3:31 p. m.—Crippen on board Montrose, inward bound, 200 miles east." The dispatch is presumed to be a wireless message from the steamer Lauronic.

CROPS DIE IN IMPERIAL VALLEY

Threats to Dynamite a Dam That Takes Away Water.

Imperial, Cal., July 29.—As a result of the desperate situation of the Imperial valley, which threatens the destruction of a million and a half dollars worth of crops by drought, a number of men carrying a large quantity of dynamite made a quick run down the river last night, intending to blow up the dam of the California-Santa Fe Land & Cattle company, which has been accused of diverting the supply of water from the valley. It was found, however, that the company is using only the water which it is entitled to and the party returned. The feeling continues high among the residents of the valley and court proceedings in some form are expected to result in an effort to relieve the situation.

SMALL TEXAS TOWN HAS SEVERE FIRE

Valley View, Near Gainesville, Almost Wiped Out—Gainesville Helps.

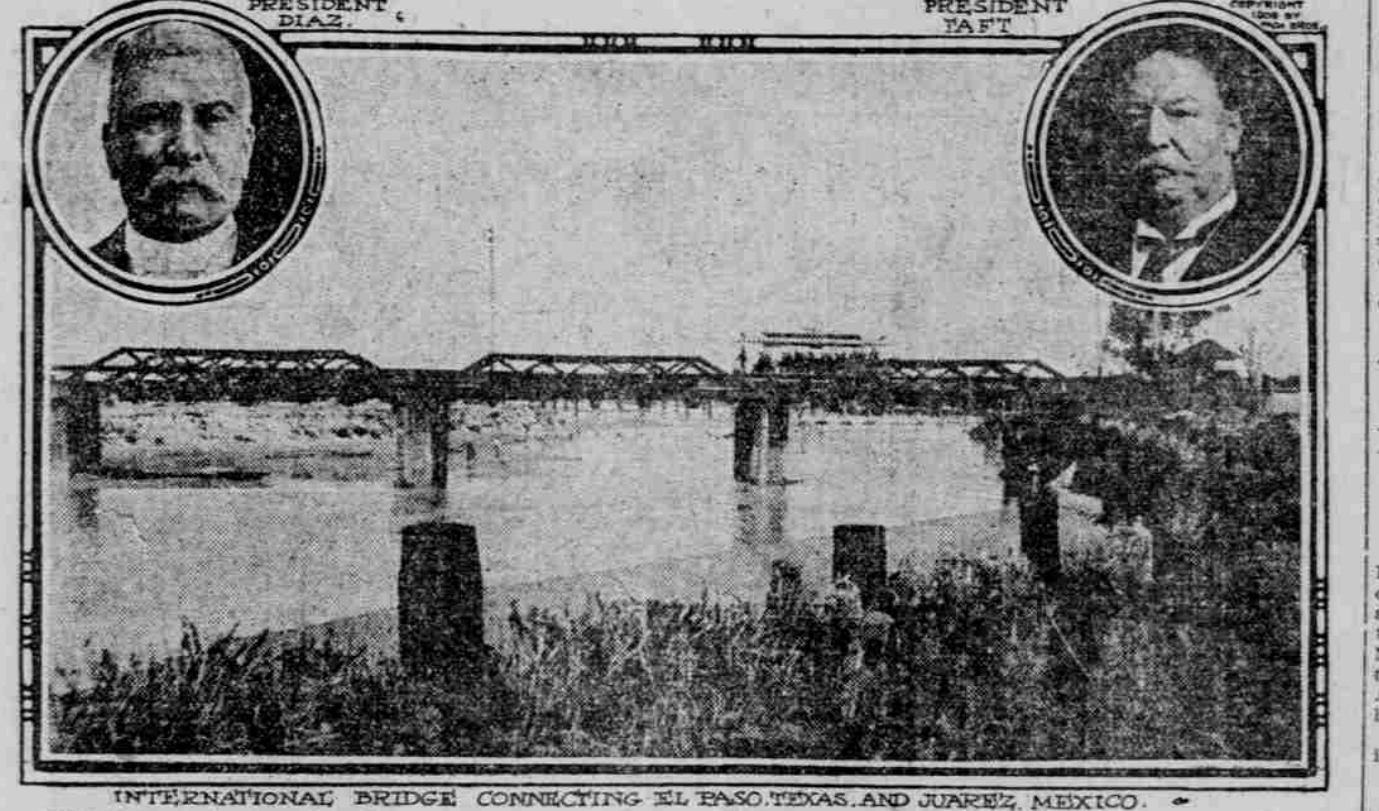

Gainesville, Texas, July 29.—News was received here this morning that fire caused $20,000 damage late last night at Valley View, a small place, ten miles south, which broke out in a restaurant on the west side of the public square, destroying everything on that side, including the restaurant, the Waples Painter lumber yard, Texon's barber shop, Sheeley & Nichols' blacksmith shop, the People's Telephone company plant and the cold storage plant. A special train went from Gainesville carrying firemen and fire apparatus and the flames were extinguished at 1:30 o'clock this morning.

RAWN CAUSED HIS OWN DEATH, VERDICT

Whether Suicide or Accidental, Coroner's Jury Does Not Say.

Chicago, Ill., July 29.—A coroner's jury which has been inquiring into the death of Ira G. Rawn, late president of the Monon railway, returned a verdict early this morning that Mr. Rawn died from a shot received from his own weapon by his own hand. "But whether it was accidental or with suicidal intent this jury is unable to determine except that the location of the wound and the type of the revolver render the accident theory less probable." The verdict is worded so as to show that the jurors believed Mr. Rawn responsible for his own death, but left the question of accident or suicide to be fought out by the family and the insurance companies. Mr. Rawn having carried $110,000 in accident insurance.

Bridge Where Accident Occurred and Presidents Who Crossed It Recently

INTERNATIONAL BRIDGE CONNECTING EL PASO, TEXAS, AND JUAREZ, MEXICO. This photograph was taken from upstream, on the Juarez side of the river, and it shows a street car just about to leave the span of the bridge which fell this morning. It was the first span shown in the photo, counting from the right, which fell, and the car tumbled into the river in the foreground of the picture, but there is no water there now, as shown in the picture.

Where Mill Of Justice Grinds Anything But Slowly AN HOUR IN POLICE COURT.

The mills of the gods grind slowly, but not so do the mills of police court justice. There is no undue haste; everyone gets a fair chance to tell his hard luck story—and it usually is a hard luck story—and the unfortunate may even demand a jury trial if he thinks the recorder will not mete out justice as the blind roddeus weighs it. But there is no delay, no lost motion about the machine which grinds out daily sentences for the riff-raff, the floating scum of the south side, who are corralled behind the railing in the prisoners' dock at the Stanton street station, upstairs, first door ahead. It is not much of a courtroom as temples of justice go—no high and imposing bench from which the presiding judge views the human family assembled at the bar of justice. It is shirt-sleeve justice that is meted out to the just and unjust each morning and afternoon in the recorder's court at the police station. In place of the polished oak bench and bar, there is a plain pine counter behind which the presiding magistrate sits, usually in his shirt sleeves, and dispenses equity after the fashion of the coatless. Weighed and Found Wanting. In a setting of nondescript the nondescript are weighed in the scales and found more or less wanting. Negroes and whites, Mexicans and an occasional Chinese, Syrian or those of other nationality are to be seen ranged along the rail or occupying the well worn benches in the crowded little courtroom. On an elevated dais "Dad" Burnham, the veteran jailor, sits in all the majesty of his brass buttons and blue suit, ruffing the roost like an old game bird. The police who appear as arrest-

JUSTICE MOODY TO RETIRE IN FALL

Taft Will Undoubtedly Appoint Hughes to Chief Justiceship.

Magnolia, Mass., July 29.—Associate Justice William H. Moody, of the United States supreme court, has definitely stated that he will announce his retirement from the bench before November 15 when the act passed in his behalf at the last congress expires. Justice Moody's health is improving but he feels that he is not strong enough to undertake the arduous duties of the coming term. The president now faces the responsibility of appointing two associate justices and filling the chief justiceship. Governor Hughes, of New York, undoubtedly will be the new chief justice.

ALAMOGORDO WILL ELECT JUDGE FALL

Democrats and Republicans to Select Him as Constitutional Delegate.

Alamogordo, N. M., July 29.—Both the Democratic and Republican central committees met yesterday afternoon and set August 13 for precinct conventions and August 20 for convention. Non-partisan candidates for the constitutional convention seem assured, and A. B. Fall will no doubt be nominated by both conventions. The Ben Irvin criminal assault case is called for preliminary trial today.

CARRIERS' DAY

Tomorrow being the last Saturday of the month, The Herald carriers will present bills for the month of July. Subscribers will kindly note the above and be ready for the boys.

ESTANCIA HAS A BIG FIRE

Santa Fe, N. M., July 29.—Fire which started in a bakery last night, wiped out an entire square at Estancia, the county seat of Torrance county, New Mexico. The home of mayor George Van Stone was among the buildings destroyed. The loss is $20,000 and insurance $15,000. Only last week the courthouse with all its records and several adjoining buildings were destroyed.

102 PTOMAINE POISON CASES IN ONE TOWN

Joplin, Mo., July 29.—Twenty-two new cases of ptomaine poisoning are reported today making the total number in the last week 102. Two deaths have resulted and several victims are in a dangerous condition. The city physician has asked the state health department to send inspectors to aid in determining the cause of the trouble.

3 HURT IN SONORA WRECK

Nogales, Ariz., July 29.—As a result of the wrecking yesterday of a north bound freight train on the Sonora railway, which ran into a washout, brakeman Jesus Sarnegia was fatally injured; engineer Huber was seriously hurt and the fireman of the train badly scalded.

TOWN IS THREATENED BY BURNING FOREST

Spokane, Wash., July 29.—A hundred men are fighting today to save the town of Wardner, Idaho. A forest fire has eaten its way to within a mile and a half of the town and this distance is heavily timbered. Dispatches from Wallace, Idaho, say that the heavy winds of the last few days have spread the flames rapidly and enormous damage has been done. Along Pine creek men are fighting the fires until they are dropping exhausted and their places are being taken by their wives.
